On January 23 we had a vehicle fire. It was a 2014 Corvette made from every thing know to man that burns. This was our first time using F 500 it worked better than expected. The last vehicle fire we had was an older model ford car we used between 750 and 1000 gallons of water and 3 gallons of foam through a small handheld foam pack to put the fire out. On the Corvette we used less than 200 gallons of water with F 500 mixed at 1% the fire was out in less than 1 minute. You have an incredible product that is a real game changer in the fire industry. Thank you for a great product and the training.
