

Hazard Control Technologies, Inc.

Suggested Operating Guidelines

Note: This information is submitted as a suggested guide to establish a Departmental SOG when using F-500 EA as part of your emergency response procedures, and should in no way be considered a replacement for existing, established protocol. Hazard Control Technologies, Inc. is responsible for the quality of the product F-500 EA only, and will not assume responsibility for any other problem areas encountered when the product is being used.